Thirteen Community Members Announced as CASA Ambassadors

Adams & Broomfield Counties, CO – CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) of Adams & Broomfield Counties announced a slate of thirteen community members who will represent the non-profit as Ambassadors to the community. CASA Ambassadors, representatives from throughout Adams & Broomfield Counties, will work to help make sure that every child who cannot live safely at home has a caring, compassionate CASA Volunteer who will help fight for their right to be safe, ensure that they are treated with dignity, and assure their safe passage out of foster care. Building a stronger community for all.

Each year, in Adams and Broomfield Counties, there are over 1,300 children who have been physically, sexually or emotionally abused or neglected, and who are in desperate need of a caring, committed CASA Volunteer to speak up for their best interests. In Adams and Broomfield Counties, there are over 280 CASA volunteers, but not nearly enough to serve all the children in need. The new Ambassadors will play a critical role in helping the program work towards its goal of recruiting more Child Advocates and securing more support for the cause.

2011/2012 CASA Ambassadors include: Kevin O'Connell, Shelley Martindelcampo, Angie Tuck and Jennifer Nickerson of Brighton; Pete Snyder of Broomfield; Taylor Keyes and Amy Lueb of Denver, Amanda Korth, Tiffany Pittman, Rachel Williams and Renee Hall of Thornton; Michelle Sandoval of Westminster; and Rhiannon Tovani of Ft. Collins.
